Defense Appeal By Lewis Filed With High Court

Lewis And United Mine Workers Present Plea
Asking Not Guilty
Decree

NEW QUESTIONS RAISED IN PLEA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—The supreme court today studied a plea by John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers to find them not guilty of contempt and wipe out the $3,510,000 penalty.

The appeal was placed before the high tribunal late Thursday in a separate petition for review of Federal District Court Justice T. Alan Goldsborough's rulings on the contempt charge against the mine union and its chief.

The high court was expected to grant the petition at its next regular decision day, Monday, Dec. 16.

Will Enlarge Issue

While the case is before the supreme court already as a result of its action last Monday in granting the justice department's petition for a hearing, the filing of a separate appeal by the union will have the effect of enlarging the issues before the court.

The government petition asked the supreme court to decide only whether Justice Goldsborough had the authority to issue a temporary restraining order against Lewis and the union to prevent irreparable injury to property.

Questions Raised

The mine workers, in their petition, raised these additional questions:

Did the restraining order violate the Norris-La Guardia Act and the Clayton Act, both of which prohibit the use of injunctions in cases growing out of labor disputes?

Was the restraining order, which required Lewis to rescind his notice of contract termination to the miners, a violation of constitutional protection against involuntary servitude?

U.N. Committee Votes For New York Site Plan

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(INS)—New York City today was selected by the headquarters committee of the United Nations as the permanent home of the world body.

By a vote of 33 to 7, the committee voted late last night to accept the offer of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the city of New York providing a tract along the East river as the site for a skyscraper capital.

The United Nations general assembly must approve the committee's decision but there is every expectation that the assembly will give its okay to the site.

Rockefeller offered the six block of land valued at $8,500,000 to the United Nations in a dramatic move Wednesday when it seemed that Philadelphia would be chosen as the "world capital". New York City offered to purchase another $2,000,000 worth of land in the area to "round out" the site.

A sub-committee was appointed and made a hasty inspection of the land, which is in the Grand Central district and only a few blocks from scores of leading hotels.

In the final committee debate on the site there was little opposition.

The countries voting against the Manhattan site were Australia, Egypt, India, Iran, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, and Syria.

DENSE FOG WRAPS MOST OF ENGLAND

London, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Most of England was blanketed early today by one of the worst fogs in years, stranding thousands of persons in London because of halted traffic.

Planes were grounded and the liner America was prevented from sailing from Southampton.

Four thousand fans who attended a hockey game at the Wembley rink were unable to go home. They danced to phonograph music and ate refreshments supplied by the management.

Farmers Hosts To Rotary Men

Annual Dinner Takes Place
In East Brook high school
On Thursday Evening

ENTERTAINMENT FOLLOWS DINNER

New Castle Rotary club members were entertained by a group of representative Lawrence county farmers, in the East Brook high school, Thursday evening, in return for the courtesy extended them earlier in the year when the Rotary Club had the farmers as their guests. This custom has been followed for some time as a means of getting better acquainted, and enabling the urban and rural residents of the county to better understand each other's problems.

Program Presented

Following a fine dinner served by the ladies of the East Brook Grange, a splendid program of entertainment was presented. C. B. Patton, of Hickory township presided as chairman, and introduced George Kyle, director of music of the North Beaver Consolidated School at Mt. Jackson, who presented a group of talented students in a musical program.

Nola Patterson sang "Little Bells Through Dark Of Night", by Kountz; Joan Martin gave a saxophone number, "Lady Fingers", by Zimmerman; and the high school male quartet, consisting of Wendell

Store on Hamilton Street Is Held Up Thursday Night

—Bandits Are Hooded

Two red-robed armed bandits at 10:15 p. m. Thursday held up five persons, one a customer, in the Wasilewski grocery, 1901 Hamilton street, and fled with about $300, according to a report to police.

The bandits pointed revolvers at Mrs. Wasilewski while she was dicing a shelf. Her 9-year-old daughter, Donna, was at the check-out counter and Robert Crevensten, a customer, was in the front of the store.

Loots Cash Register

While one of the bandits covered Mrs. Wasilewski with the revolver after commanding "Don't move", the other armed bandit looted the cash register of greenbacks. He did not take the silver.

John Wasilewski, husband of Mrs. Wasilewski and proprietor, and his son, Eugene, 16, ran from a rear room. "Get out of here!" exclaimed Mr. Wasilewski. The bandits fled into Hamilton street and escaped.

A squad of police in charge of Lieut. G. S. Kennedy arrived within five minutes, having been notified by radio from headquarters after an alarm had been telephoned.

It was learned the bandits had stolen and driven the car of Casimir Kuczia from in front of his home, 309 Galbreath avenue. It was found parked with engine running, opposite the market.

The girls selling the tags will be in charge of Mrs. Clara Spiker.

RECORD OUTPUT

DETROIT, Dec. 13.—(INS)—United States and Canadian car and truck manufacturers this week boosted output to a record post war mark and to a level above the same week in 1941.

The gain was registered despite operational interruptions accompanying the rail embargo and coal strike.

Decision to explore the cave was reached by Professor Stanley Kunitz, acting head of the college, a few hours after a clairvoyant at Kearsarge probed the body of Paula, attractive sophomore, would be found in its depths. She has been missing for thirteen days.

A band of professors and students making the search was led by Professor Robert Woodworth, Paula's homeroom teacher. He has taken his classes to the mouth of the cave on many occasions.

Old stories about the dread cave, coupled with the fact it was Friday the thirteenth and the girl has been missing for thirteen days began circulating among mountaineers as the searching party assembled.

Planning To Move State Department

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Plans to move the state department from its historic position next to the White House proceeded today despite President Truman's recent denial that such a development was being considered.

The transfer of the diplomats and all their trappings was decided on by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes himself, persons close to the situation said. In fact, they declared Byrnes had made his decision even before the president spoke.

Vehement objection is being expressed throughout the department. It is argued that the move would indicate that Mr. Truman is more anxious to have fiscal agents near him than the senior member of the cabinet.

The new quarters for makers of American foreign policy are to be in a new granite-front building originally erected to house the war department. It was outgrown by demands of the wartime military machine even before completion.

Crack Passenger Train In Wreck Near Mansfield, O.

"Golden Triangle" Smashes
Into Wreckage Of Two
Freight Trains Early
Today

MOST OF WRECK VICTIMS SOLDIERS (BULLETIN)

MANSFIELD, O., Dec. 13.—

(INS)—Eight persons were believed buried in the wreckage today when the Pennsylvania Railroad's crack "Golden Triangle" crashed into two piled-up freight trains at Coulter, 12 miles southeast of Mansfield.

Twenty-seven other persons were injured and taken to hospitals in Mansfield and Wooster.

Although only eight bodies had been recovered by mid-morning, rescue workers, cutting their way with acetylene torches into the tangled steel of the passenger train's first coach, said they expected to find at least half a dozen more bodies.

MANSFIELD, O., Dec. 13.—

—At least 12 persons were believed killed and 27 others were injured early today when the crack passenger train "Golden Triangle" smashed into the wreckage of two freight trains piled up on the Pennsylvania Railroad seven miles southeast of Mansfield.

Police reported that seven bodies had been recovered from the tangled wreckage. Bodies of five more have been seen in a coach which was twisted into a "U" shape by the force of the impact.

Nine Of Dead Are Soldiers

Nine of the dead were said to be soldiers who were aboard the swift, west-bound passenger train. The other three were crewmen of the "Triangle" and of one of the freights.

A Wooster undertaker told newsmen that he saw nine bodies under one coach.

All of the dead and injured were in the first two cars of the "Triangle". The bodies of two soldiers and two crewmen were crushed beneath the locomotive tender.

The two coaches were buried

New York Fire Toll Is 20 Dead; Sixteen Missing

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(INS)—

The toll in the six-story upper Manhattan tenement fire mounted today to 20 known dead and 16 persons missing and feared entombed in the debris from the disaster.

Twenty-seven persons were injured.

Police and firemen worked throughout the night, under floodlights, to uncover the bodies still believed to be in the ruins.

They had given up all hope of rescuing any of the victims alive although some of the workers said they could still hear moans from Joseph Arigo, 60, pinned deep in the wreckage. There was no sound from Arigo after mid-night, however.

Pneumatic drills and two big chain saws were used sparingly because the vibration might shake the walls loose. Most of the work was done by hand with firemen pulling bricks and timbers from the wreckage and passing them back by a human chain.

Immediate cause for the disaster was placed on four boys who had started a fire in the ice house at 5:05 p. m. All four boys, the oldest 13, were apprehended and then released in custody of their parents. They said they had piled newspapers on the roof and then ignited them with a lighted candle.

Police and firemen worked throughout the night, under floodlights, to uncover the bodies still believed to be in the ruins.

Several firemen shook the youth's hand at the close of the trial and a woman junior leaned over and kissed him on the cheek.

A. E. Galloway, his father, stood alongside and said: "I never was convinced my boy was guilty."

The victim, the former Catherine Diamond, 20, of Nanticoke, was wounded fatally October 26 when a slug from a .32 caliber automatic pistol ripped through her chin and lodged near the spine.

Throughout the trial Galloway maintained the 35-year-old pistol, a gift from his father-in-law, had discharged accidentally while he was cleaning it.

Another voice from the past was Alf M. Landon of Kansas, who ran for the Republican ticket for the Presidency in 1936 against the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The list of callers was an oddity in that the individuals involved included participants in some of the most dramatic moments, both domestic and international, of the past decade.

The callers included two men who especially made news during the 1930's.

One of these was Edward Duke of Windsor, the man who gave up the throne of England for an American wife.

Another voice from the past was Alf M. Landon of Kansas, who ran for the Republican ticket for the Presidency in 1936 against the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He said the rush of steam was blamed by one of the victims for many of the injuries when the Pennsylvania railroad's "Golden Triangle" crashed into two previously piled-up freight trains near Mansfield today.

Chester Harp, 17-year-old soldier from Kenosha, Wis., who was riding in the first car and was brought to Wooster Community hospital with back injuries, described the accident.

He said that the passengers in the train rammed into the freight trains "was the most terrible thing" immediately following the crash.

He declared that many of the 75 soldiers in the coach were burned.

He said that the army men were en route to Chicago, where they were to have received 12-day furloughs before departing for occupation duty in Japan.

The weather bureau forecast more rain through Saturday.

The flood was rated the worst since 1934 at Kent. Scores of refugees were housed by the Red Cross, and shelter was sought even in undertakers' parlors.

FORESEES PROSPERITY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Former Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Republican presidential nominee in 1936, today forecast for the nation an era of sound prosperity with increasing good relations between labor and management.

He said he would support the proposed tax legislation to provide the needed funds will be passed.

Mr. McCullough said he would support the proposed salary demands of the Pennsylvania State Education Association Thursday night at a public meeting in the senior high school.

Assemblyman James C. Brie and Assemblyman-elect William H. McCullough spoke, outlining their views, and later answered questions. Brie, Mr. Brie's viewpoint was this: "He is convinced the teaching profession is due for a higher wage bracket; he will support reasonable legislation but he will do so with the understanding that tax legislation to provide the needed funds will be passed.

Miss McCabe Opened Meeting

Miss Grace McCabe, president of the New Castle chapter of the PSEA, opened the meeting as chairman, greeted the teachers present and then presented J. Arthur Turk, president of the county branch of the PSEA, who conducted the meeting. He introduced Mr. Brie, who spoke and then introduced Mr. McCullough, State Senator Louis

Railroad Officials Blame Carelessness For Train Wreck

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Officials of the Pennsylvania railroad central division in Pittsburgh today blamed carelessness on the part of a freight train engineer for the wreck at Mansfield, O., in which eight persons were killed and 25 injured.

A spokesman for the railroad said that L. Petoskey of the Toledo division and engineer of the second freight train, failed to observe the "approach" signal two miles west of the point where the first freight was stalled with mechanical trouble.

The railroad official said Petoskey next came upon a stop signal warning him of the train ahead, but his momentum was too much to halt the train in time. Petoskey's freight traveled 600 feet while trying to stop and smashed into the rear of the stalled train, tossing cars into the path of the westbound "Golden Triangle."

He added that a flagman from the first freight was standing at the stop signal when Petoskey's train went by.

The spokesman said railroad officials learned the cause of the accident after a check showed the signals had operated properly. They said Petoskey was uninjured.

TEACHERS' SALARIES ARE DISCUSSED

Kline sent regrets that he could not be present, but Joseph A. Hartman said in a telephone conversation Kline had promised to support legislation for adequate salaries. Present on the platform were other officers of the local chapters.

Many questions were asked from the floor when the meeting was turned into an open forum. Some questions concerning tax legislation were raised, but the group as a whole seemed to believe that this was the problem of the legislators rather than that of the teachers.

It developed during the meeting that the PSEA legislative committee has approved a single salary schedule which they will press for passage in the General Assembly. The idea is "equal salaries for equal training". This schedule would raise the present minimum for the holder of a permanent certificate to $2,400, with increments raising the maximum to $3,800.

For the holder of a bachelor's degree the minimum would be $2,400, with increments bringing the maximum to $4,100, and for the holder of a master's degree the minimum would be $2,400, with increments bringing the maximum to $4,400.

Mass production today, has eliminated the necessity of making shoes for customers by hand, thus the term "cobbler" can be applied as all business done now consists of rebuilding the soles and heels.

Many changes in the "cobbining" business, even in 38 years, have come about in this day of modern machinery, a reporter learned as the interview progressed with Mr. Tomassello. Prior to the advent of the stitching machine and other machinery, it took about an hour to half sole a pair of shoes properly. Today it can be done in half the time. On a good day 22 pairs of shoes can be soled and heeled. In the past 38 years, approximately 250,000 pairs of shoes have gone through Mr. Tomassello's hands.

An old time picture taken about the turn of the century hanging in the cobbler's shop, shows the West Side area of the city before West Washington street was paved. It was interesting to note an inscription in front of a nearby restaurant which read, "Big 15 cent meals".

Mr. Tomassello, who is 67 years of age, has no plans for retirement but hopes to continue on in the business until he is unable to keep up. At present he is in good health and lives with his wife and family, an apartment over the shop on West Washington street.

down a 15-foot embankment by the collision.

Trunks Enroute To Chicago

A Pennsylvania agent in Mansfield said the first two coaches of the passenger train were loaded with trunks en route from Ft. Dix, N. J., to Chicago.

The first coach was ripped apart and thrown atop the second locomotive of the doubleheader pulling the passenger train.

Two men trapped in the first car were given first aid while rescue workers attempted to free them from the tangle.

Nineteen ambulances from the north central Ohio area were summoned to the scene.

The "Golden Triangle" left Pittsburgh at 11 p. m. last night and was due in Chicago at 7:40 this morning.

Ploughs Into Wreckage

Police said the swift west-bound passenger train ploughed into wreckage caused by an earlier pile-up of two freight.

The first freight train reportedly stopped on the east-bound track when it broke an air hose. The second freight smashed into its rear, throwing cars of the first train into the west-bound line.

R. E. Rorick, an employee of the Ohio Oil Company pumping station at Coulter, was the first person to give a first hand report of the crash.

W. A. Bricker, another pumping station worker, said he heard the crash at his nearby home. He was one of the first on the scene and helped pull many of the injured from the pile-up. He said:

"It was fairly quiet when I came rushing up. I heard no screams."

He said three engines—one from the second freight and the two of the passenger train—were smashed. He added that four passenger cars were derailed and one of them overturned and smashed. Passengers were believed to be still in the wreckage of that car, he said adding:

"I was just starting out to see what the crash was when there was a very loud crash as the passenger train ploughed into the wreckage. I called the telephone operator to call the sheriff and ambulances and then went to the wreck."

A doctor at the Mansfield hospital said between 18 and 20 injured had been brought there. A Wooster community hospital official said one injured soldier was treated at that institution.

A Mansfield police officer quoted one soldier as saying that the coach in which he was riding "seemed to blow up."

All available doctors and ambulances from two counties were called to the scene.

The Mansfield railroad agent said wrecking crews had been dispatched from Creighton and Canton to aid in clearing the debris.

NEW SYSTEM

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(INS)—Blasting experts devised a new system for dismantling buildings when Vancouver's Ferguson Point army camp was ordered moved recently.

The buildings were sealed and small charges of dynamite placed inside.

When the charges were touched off the walls and roofs were jarred apart, leaving nails loose for easy dismantling. Not a board was split by the blasts.

JUNIOR GUILD TEA
GIVEN AT HOSPITAL

Board of the Junior Guild of Jameson Memorial hospital met for business in the solarium of the hospital Thursday afternoon and afterwards were entertained for tea by Mrs. Thomas J. Kelly, Jr., president of the guild.

Reports by committee chairmen revealed that the recent charity ball was an outstanding success financially with an amount close to $1400 netted. The guild since its organization has maintained a continuing program of beautifying, redecorating and refurbishing the interior of the hospital.

At Thursday's meeting it was announced that in both wings of the second floor at the hospital new cubicle curtains have been installed together with chrome rods and hooks for partitioning space. Also new window shades, supplied by the guild, were recently installed on every window of the building.

In January the guild will resume regular Thursday sewings in the hospital solarium on the second Thursday, January 9.

FEDERATION JUNIOR
CHRISTMAS MEETING

Federation Junior club was entertained for its Christmas meeting and gift exchange in the home of Mrs. W. A. Fohr, Wilmington road, R. D. 3, Thursday evening. Bright Christmas arrangements of greens and ornaments, candles and yuletide motifs throughout the downstairs rooms gave a holiday air. During the social hour there was a gift exchange in charge of Mrs. William Y. Gibson.

During business, reports included one by Mrs. Paul Hoagland on the clothing purchased for the Marchant Henry Home, one on having children fitted for glasses, given by Mrs. Gibson; one on plans for the Christmas party at the Elm Street Y. W. C. A., by Miss Janet Breneman, and on the children's play project by Mrs. Joseph W. Pearson and Mrs. A. J. Brinckle.

Afterwards tea was served from a festively appointed tea table with Miss Reba Sines pouring. Social committee assisting the hostess was Mrs. Richard Marquis, Mrs. William Gibson and Mrs. Joseph A. Cunningham.

Next meeting will be January 9, at the home of Miss Isabel Johnson, 313 Edgewood avenue.

TIFERETH SISTERHOOD
HEARS RABBI GRUEN

Tifereth Israel Sisterhood at its meeting in Tifereth Israel synagogue Tuesday evening was addressed by Rabbi Iwan Gruen, of Temple Israel, who spoke on Chanukah in the present day and the revival of Jewish life before Nazism, of its challenge to American Jewry in a willingness to help with the values of Judaism and a revival of Judaism.

Rabbi Gruen, introduced by Mrs. Julius Cobb, held the close attention of the group of nearly 70 present. Hostesses were Mrs. Sam Bobick, Mrs. William Cohen, Mrs. Reuben Gilman, Mrs. Perry Frank, Mrs. Israel Myers, and Mrs. Joseph Cohen. To open the program, the group sang "America" with Mrs. M. Slavonsky at the piano and Mrs. Alec Samuels gave the opening prayer. Mrs. Sam Levin presided.

It was announced that on December 22 the regular Chanukah treat for children will take place in connection with a program at the synagogue at 1:30 o'clock. Regular Chanukah party will be given that same evening at 8 o'clock in the synagogue, according to an announcement by Mrs. S. Wolfe, fundraising chairman.

Food collected at the meeting will be sent overseas in packages. During the social hour, a lunch was served.

DINNER SHOWER
FOR BRIDE ELECT

For the pleasure of one of their associates, Miss Mildred Payne, employees of the county treasurer's office were entertained Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Dambrosio, Shaw street. At 6:30 a delicious spaghetti dinner was served at tables decorated in combined Christmas and shower motifs with small umbrellas as place markers.

During the evening, an informal social time was enjoyed with games as a pastime and an exchange of gifts as a feature. The guest of honor received a number of useful articles in a kitchen shower and she was also remembered with a gift from the group.

Mrs. Joseph Dambrosio, Miss Jeannette DeCarlo, Miss Mary Blondi, and Miss Helen Haug were aites to the hostess.

Miss Payne, a bride-elect of the near future, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Payne, of Shaw street. She will become the bride of Donald Sample, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sample, of Point place.

NOCERA COSTA
ENGAGEMENT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boni of 410 Division street announce the engagement of their daughter, Dora Nocera, to Anthony C. Costa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Costa, 1702 Moravia street.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mendette Club Meeting

Members of Mendette club held their annual Christmas party Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul E. 215 West Sheridan avenue with a delicious dinner served at 6:30 o'clock.

Gifts were exchanged by the members with names of secret pals being revealed. Officers were also chosen for the coming year. Door prizes went to Mrs. Alfred Barnes and Mrs. Donald Johnson.

Mrs. Donald Johnston, 410 East Sheridan avenue, will entertain the club on January 8.

D. L. Club Meeting

P. L. Club of Horlansburg and community met with Miss Doris McCracken of Portersville on December 11. Work progressed on a project in which the girls are making navy skirts and white blouses for a "Sidle Hawkins" party in the near future. Refreshments were served by the hostess, aided by Norma Houk and Jessie McCracken. Next meeting will be January 8.

DEPARTMENT

Teachers' Salaries

At the moment, one of the important questions before the people of Pennsylvania, and no doubt other states of the Union, is that of salaries for the teachers in our school system. It is generally agreed that teachers' salaries are inadequate and there seems little doubt that in the 1947 session of the General Assembly there will be remedial legislation passed.

In the meantime some communities, among them New Castle, have made some adjustments in the nature of a cost-of-living increase or bonus. Locally the school board has added $100 to the current year's income and seemed prepared to do more, had it been legally possible.

Whatever increase is passed by the General Assembly will have to come from taxes and it is not improper to look into the source from where these funds will come. The advocate of home rule insists that each community pay its own way but it seems to us that the small home owner has been taxed about to the limit of his ability to pay.

For the purpose of illustration we might take a figure suggested by some teachers as the proper amount of increase, $300 per teacher. There are about 65,000 teachers in the state which would mean $19,500,000 for the increase statewide.

This money can be gotten only through taxes of some sort and it is on this rock that a lot of legislation will break. Should it be a sales tax, should it be a flat income tax without exemptions, or what sort of tax should it be?

Governor-elect James H. Duff has made a down to earth analysis of the situation. He has said that the tax base must be widened if the various things are to be done that the public demand seems to indicate are necessary.

All taxes are unpopular and the sales tax has been singled out for much criticism. But there is much to say in its favor. There is merit in the idea of a one per cent income tax, but this proposal will meet much opposition also.

The entire thing boils down to this. Increases in teachers' salaries and in the salaries of state employees are needed and more money is needed for improvements in the school system. If we want them, then we are going to have to pay for them.

The German Treaty

Any thought that the Council of Foreign Ministers will succeed quickly in framing a peace treaty with Germany may as well be discarded at once. In the best of circumstances the task would be difficult and protracted—and the prevailing circumstances are not of the best.

Some factors in the equation are encouraging. The council has at last agreed on the terms of the treaties with the former axis satellites, though many times during the last year and a half it seemed that the differences among its members could never be resolved. In the process the representatives have come to know each other very well, which should mean that they will not have to waste time feeling each other out but can get down to cases promptly.

But Germany represents the central problem of European peace. Moreover, she is a special problem because she has no government at present and therefore it will be necessary to create one. That is certain to bring clashes of viewpoint, and even when that matter is settled the question of how her people and resources are to be fitted into the European structure will remain. Otherwise that structure will be unable to serve the needs of the millions who live on the continent.

To rebuild Germany into a peaceful and stable nation, capable of contributing to the peace and stability of the world, is the assignment the council now faces. Unfortunately, it is far from clear that the Russian member is really ready to undertake it. Soviet leaders may prefer to put it off for purposes of their own. To hope for swift progress under these conditions would be unrealistic.

Nevertheless, the job must be done.

Fire In New York

Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle of New York recently described the alarming increase in fire waste in winter months when fire destruction is heaviest.

In his city, said the commissioner, the number of fires increased by nearly a third in the first nine months of this year as compared with last. And that occurred, he said, in spite of the constant efforts of 10,000 officers and firemen and one of the world's best equipped fire departments.

"The main cause of fire in New York City," he continued, "are much the same as . . . in every other town and city."

"Careless smoking habits caused 5,300 fires in New York last year. Careless use of kerosene and petroleum products was second. Defective electric wiring and short circuits was third."

The seriousness of this situation compels all of us to use every precaution against the hazard of fire."

New York City is different from other communities only in size so far as fire waste is concerned. Destruction by fire is increasing on a national scale, and in every state. The responsibility for preventing fire is a duty that rests heavily on all of us.

Seek To Pool World Food Surpluses

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Poolers are a glut on today's market. The price of cotton has dropped sharply. Commodity futures are down. These are storm warnings that a break in the wartime prosperity of agriculture is near.

It is a warning that we are going back to the old order of an overflowing abundance in one country and scarcity in the country next door. The old order meant business as usual and government as usual while farmers' incomes dwindled and people went hungry.

That is the folly which a group of men sitting around a conference table in New York are trying to cure. They are delegates to a 16-nation preparatory food commission. They hope to agree on an international organization which would pool surpluses and channel them where the need was greatest.

World Food Board

All this began with the vision of Sir John Boyd Orr, chairman of the U. N. food and agriculture organization. At the FAO conference in Copenhagen, Sir John proposed a world food board. That food board would have the power and the funds to buy up surpluses in a glutted market and sell them in needy areas. In effect, it was the dream of Joseph in the Biblical story applied not to Egypt alone but to the world.

The question whether such an advanced plan would be acceptable to the big producing nations came up at once. There were grave doubts on this score. A compromise was presented by John Strachey, Britain's food minister.

On the basis of this compromise, the 16 delegates to the conference in New York hope to agree. Under the British proposal, food surpluses would be accumulated by an international authority, but no buffer stock could be set up without the consent of the countries concerned. Such an authority would have the right to sell surpluses under certain restrictions.

Essence Is Simple

While this plan's method would be complicated, the essence of it is simple. It would be aimed at preventing poverty and hunger in the midst of plenty.

Strachey, in his speech at Copenhagen, quoted the couplet:

"Here lies the body of Farmer Pete, Who starved from growing too much wheat."

Instead of a world food board under the British proposal the scheme would be included in the international trade organization which the United States is sponsoring. This has caused considerable embarrassment among our own policy-makers.

Will Clayton, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, opposed Sir John's world food board. He argued that congress would never accept it, particularly since it would mean the appropriation of large sums of money. What is more, it would put too much power over our commodity markets into an international organization.

Unhappy Over Compromise

Nor is Clayton too happy over the British compromise, according to reports. It goes against the thinking of a man who has spent most of his life watching the fluctuations of the world's commodity markets in accord with what, to men like Clayton, appear to be the immutable laws of supply and demand.

But Britain's Laborites believe that planning—both on the national and the world scale—can do much to modify the cruel working of those "laws." On their side the British have most of the nations of Europe and the British commonwealth. If we stand out for completely untrammeled free enterprise, we run the risk of standing alone.

Acceptance of some such plan as the British propose might be wider in this country than one would at first think. Our own farmers are absolutely conscious of the ruin that came with the "over-production" and the disastrous prices of the late 20s and the early 30s. While organized crop restriction helped to keep prices up, it can never be more than a temporary solution.

Out in San Francisco, the American Farm Bureau Federation is having a convention. The delegates, representing farmers throughout the country, are considering the wisdom of a plan like that put forward by the British. One of the delegates is Rep. Clifford Hope of Kansas, who, as ranking Republican, becomes chairman of the house agriculture committee.

And, just imagine, they are only $1,300 the dozen, although there are a few for the ridiculously low price of $100 the dozen.

Maybe you are in the same fix, so I'll help you along with a few of the things I see advertised.

Are you thinking of giving somebody a watch?

Here's just the thing—Gold Watch, set with diamonds and rubies, $2,550. That, however, includes the particular store's cheaper numbers.

Some people like footwear for a Christmas gift.

For them, "the ruptured sole is the newest sorcery for orchidaceous hours of ease." In gold kid with red, blue and green sequins, $24.95.

I have a nifty little number for her.

"Butterfly Mule—metallic brocades and the burnished beauty of bronze kid, $22.95."

A dress for your wife?

The straight from the shoulder wool is one of our practicing magicians. In green, purple or gray, the petals, rayon velvet in a complimenting color contrast, $110. And that, gentlemen, is one of this particular store's cheaper numbers.

My wife probably has already bought my present for me.

But if she hasn't, she can get me something for my "orchidaceous hours," something I also saw advertised in my paper.

"Men's slippers, fleece lined, $3.50."

That's about up my alley.

A. A. U. W. HEARS TALK ON "GEMS"

New Wilmington chapter of the A. A. U. W. met Thursday evening in the lounge of Ferguson hall, Westminster College, for a program attended by more than 60, with girls of the senior class as guests. Miss Alice K. Schuster presided.

Speaker was Mrs. George Beattie, of Cleveland, certified gemologist, whose talk on "Gems" was both entertaining and instructive. "Gems are the flowers of the mineral kingdom and they are blossoms that never fade", she said. A jewel mined hundreds of years ago when placed in a modern setting is as fresh and gleaming and colorful as one discovered yesterday, was the theme of her address in which she mentioned gems as referred to in the Bible to illustrate their history. Mentioning the Pearl of Great Price, she called the attention of the audience to the fact that this is the only gem that does not need to be enhanced by the hand of man.

Afterwards tea was served with Miss Elsie Calvin and Mrs. W. L. Cosel pouring. Miss Elizabeth Stewart was chairman of the social committee.

CLUB MEETS FOR HOLIDAY BRIDGE

Junior Woman's club met Thursday evening in the home of Miss Betty Drio, 1205 North Mercer street, with Mrs. Floyd Whitman as co-hostess. Decorations for the season formed the setting for the business meeting and social time with tables of bridge in play later in the evening.

During business, there were reports on the club's welfare work among children given by Miss Mary Brennenan, president, and Miss Margaret McCracken. One on a recent fund-raising project was given by Mrs. Charles Greene. Mrs. Thomas C. Hawkins was a special guest.

At the close of bridge play, refreshments were served.

Next meeting will be December 26, the club's Christmas dinner at The Castleton.

G. M. CLUB PLANS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Members of the G. M. club met on Thursday evening in the home of the president, Mrs. Mike DeCrapio, of Linton street.

Cards were the pastime of the evening, with prizes being captured by Mrs. Floyd Simione, Mrs. Christine Lombardo and Mrs. Joe Donati.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Christine Lombardo and Mrs. Josephine Cople. A Christmas party will be entertained at the home of Mrs. DeCrapio, 825 East Linton street, on December 18.

JOLLY TWELVE CLUB HOLIDAY LUNCHEON

Jolly Twelve club members were entertained in the home of Mrs. John Thatcher, 21 Round street, Wednesday evening for a combined annual yuletide party, celebration of the club's twenty-third anniversary, and housewarming event for the hostess.

At 1 o'clock a lovely luncheon with holiday appointments was served and later a program of Christmas readings included: "The Christmas Prayer" by Mrs. Christina Houck, "Apology of Santa" by Mrs. Thatcher, "The Family Circle" by Mrs. Charles Gardner, and "The Blessing of Giving" by Mrs. Joseph Perkins.

During a gift exchange, Mrs. Perkins, on behalf of the group, presented Mrs. Thatcher with a housewarming gift for use in her new home. Mrs. D. T. Andrews received the hostess remembrance. In serving the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Perkins.

This meeting marked the last of the club until spring as it was decided to recess during the winter months.

OAKWOOD CLUB PUTS UP STREET MARKERS

Oakwood Garden club met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Samuel McBride, Youngstown road, with handsome Christmas decorations arranged to greet the members. Mrs. Anna Peden was hostess.

On the program, an article on "The Bluebird" was read by Mrs. Marie Covert, the history of how the poinsettia became a Christmas decoration was told by Miss Margaret Lowery. Mrs. L. F. Heineman's topic was "Viburnums" and Miss Elizabeth Taylor gave a history of the club.

Attractive programs for 1947 were presented to members by Mrs. Julian Miller, who presided and opened the meeting by reading a Christmas poem.

Mrs. Frank W. Moorehead and Mrs. Fred W. Sonton reported on the Garden Council Christmas display in a downtown store room on the Diamond. Miss Stella Hove, chairman of the civic committee, reported that street markers have been installed along the Youngstown hill and along West Washington street extension, in accordance with a project on which the club has been working for some time.

Following business, there was a social hour with a gift exchange and a lunch served by the hostesses.

Next meeting will be January 9 at the home of Mrs. J. H. Elmer and Mrs. Ethel Whiting co-hostesses.

NATIONAL TUBE
WILL ATTEMPT NEW STEEL STRETCHING

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—(INS)—The principle of stretching red-hot steel longer and thinner while it is being rolled will be applied as a major innovation in setting up the world's first continuous seamles tube mill at the Lorain, O., plant of National Tube Co.

The operation of "stretch reduction" requires the introduction of tension by increasing the relative speeds of the rolls in successive stands more than is required merely to roll pipe wall to smaller diameters.

Plans are underway, he said, for "oversized" western area delegations descending on Harrisburg for the ceremonies, with many trainloads of bands and floats to "outdo" delegates from the rest of the state.

East GOP Bloc Worried About West's Majority

Believe State's Western Element Will Receive Juiciest
Cabinet "Plums"

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Eastern Pennsylvania Republicans expressed anxiety today over the state's new GOP administration becoming "top-heavy" with western representation.

Sharp concern was voiced by high Republican leaders that the western element might also receive one of the juiciest cabinet plums—the $12,000-a-year-post of attorney general—at the expense of the East's leading candidate, Lt. Gov. John C. Bell Jr.

Governor-elect James H. Duff, himself a Western Pennsylvanian, has reportedly given much thought to turning over his attorney generalship to one of his closest personal friends, former Allegheny County Common Pleas Judge Elder W. Marshall.

To Be Own Governor
"Duff's going to be his own governor, and it's hard to say what he'll do," said one eastern Republican. "Nobody really knows whether he ever did promise the job to Bell before the primary."

Bell had made a serious bid for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, but backed out before the May primary in favor of Duff, in what many GOP leaders construed as a deal hinging on his being appointed attorney general in Duff's cabinet.

The Lieutenant governor, it is known, desires to head the justice department, in the post held by his father, John C. Bell, under the administration of the late Gov. John K. Tener.

One Philadelphia Republican leader pointed out that Marshall entered the attorney general picture early last fall as Allegheny county Republican campaign manager.

Since then, he said, Duff has been "closer to Marshall than he ever was, and if he wants him as attorney general, nothing can be done about it."

Film Major Offices

The voters last month filled three of the four major offices with Western Pennsylvanians.

Leading off the GOP slate was Gov. Edward Martin, who defeated Joseph F. Guffey for the U. S. Senate. Martin hails from Washington, Pa.

Duff comes from Allegheny county, while Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood Jr. makes his home in Juniata county.

Only easterner in the slate was Lt. Gov.-elect Daniel B. Strickler, Lancaster attorney and war veteran.

The Republican spokesman said the westerners apparently are going to capitalize on their "big showing" by "packing" next month's inauguration ceremonies.

Plans are underway, he said, for "oversized" western area delegations descending on Harrisburg for the ceremonies, with many trainloads of bands and floats to "outdo" delegates from the rest of the state.

Seek Identity Of Admirer In Divorcee Murder

Companion Of Pottstown Woman
Before Her Strangulation
Sought By Police

POTTSTOWN, Pa. Dec. 13.—(INS)—Detectives sought today to learn the identity of a middle-aged man who strangled Mrs. Miriam Green, Pottstown divorcee, to parties and dances in the weeks before she was found strangled to death in her apartment.

The middle-aged man entered the case after police made the rounds of all bars and restaurants in a 25-mile area to learn who her escorts were in the period before her slaying.

Mrs. Green's sister, Mrs. Evelyn Eckenroth, of Mohnton, told police she had seen the victim recently with a soldier. Mrs. Eckenroth said the couple quarreled in a Reading bar, but later patched up their differences.

Mrs. Green's former husband, George W. Green, from whom she had been divorced only a week, and an alleged boy friend, Gerald C. Wentzel, of Kenilworth, were released Wednesday by police, but ordered to stay in the county.

Seek 23½ Cent
Raise For Auto
Workers Of Nation

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(INS)—The United Automobile Workers, (CIO) launched a drive today for a basic 23½ cents an hour raise in wages for the million workers in the automotive industry.

Walter Reuther, president of the U. A. W., said the boost in pay is necessary to restore to workers in our industry what has been taken from them by the rise in the cost of living since the beginning of the year.

Unofficial estimates placed the cost of the new union demands to industry at $624 million in 1947.

Reuther contended the wage demands the union is making "do not require any increase in prices."

Cosmo Club Has Annual Election

At the regular annual election meeting held in the club rooms recently the following were elected: president, Sam Edelstein; vice president, Ben Finkel; corresponding secretary, James Meyers; financial secretary, Jack Lebby; treasurer, David Victor; Sgt. at arms, Al Goldstein.

The new board of directors consists of Maurice Levinson, Louis Sandler, N. J. Love, Sam Cohen and David Rosenblum.

Retiring president, M. Levinson presided. Dr. A. Ruzewich was in charge of the nominating committee. New president, Edelstein, spoke briefly, assuring his cooperation in fulfilling the position as president to the best of his ability.

The entertainment committee was in charge later, and served a delicious repast. Installation of the officers will take place on January 7.

Jobless Benefits Request Denied

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Suspension of employment to enter college was not regarded today by the unemployment compensation board of review as sufficient reason for meritless jobless benefits.

The board denied compensation to James E. Oarwett of Belle Vernon, who quite the Pittsburgh Steel

Co., of Monessen, to enroll at Westminster college. He applied for temporary college. He applied for temporary man year and sought jobless benefits when no employment was available.

"The reason for leaving involved in this case does not constitute good cause for it does not involve necessitous circumstances, legal or family obligations or any other reason sufficient to transform a voluntary leaving into involuntary unemployment," the board stated.

CHARGE MUSSOLINI HOARD HELD BY REDS

LONDON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—A Rome dispatch to the London Daily Mail reported today that anti-Communists have charged that forty-million-dollar hoard which belonged to Benito Mussolini is hidden in the Italian Communist headquarters.

The dispatch said Milan newspapers are demanding a government investigation into the disappearance of the late dictator's reputed treasure.

Beware Of Yule Fire Hazards Harper Warns

Children's clothing may be set on fire during Christmas parties or celebrations, assistant fire chief G. W. Harper warned parents today, citing the special hazards brought into most homes at this season.

The kiddies clothing may be ignited if they get too close to a stove, a fireplace without a metal screen, or if they play with matches, all year round, he said. But now there is added danger from lighted candles, or an accidental fire in party decorations, quantities of paper and tissue from gift packages and the Christmas tree. A child wearing a costume of paper or flimsy material is in special danger, he emphasized, and certain toys are hazardous.

To protect the lives of children, and grownups also, Chief Harper recommended the following safety precautions for the holidays:

1. Set up the Christmas tree away from stairs and heating and electric candles run by flashlight batteries.

4. Dispose of tissue paper and wrappings from gifts immediately. Accumulations of papers are dangerous.

5. Smokers should be especially careful and stay across the room from the tree, special decorations, costumes, and gift papers.

6. Avoid giving dangerous toys, such as those requiring alcohol, kerosene or gasoline for motive power, to young children. Also, adults should supervise running of electric toys if children are young. The safest electric toys are those having transformers listed by Underwriters' Laboratories.

7. Keep a pail of water handy for emergencies, but call the fire department without delay if you can't extinguish a small fire immediately.

Assistant Chief Harper said he would give a copy of a new bulletin about Christmas safety to anyone applying at fire headquarters. The bulletin came from the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

SEAMAN CAPITOLA IS SEEING WORLD

Mrs. L. W. Schetrom, Scott street, has received word from her grandson, Harold C. Capitola S 2/c, aboard the U.S.S. Randolph, that he recently spent a week at Gibraltar enroute to Naples.

His convoy consisted of 11 ships, eight of which went to Alexandria and three to Turkey, he being aboard a ship of the latter group, which expects to dock on the U.S.

coast on December 17 with 800 soldiers aboard.

After a short Christmas furlough, Seaman Capitola, will return to northern Europe in January. He states, "It's nice to see the world but there is only one U.S.A. and I'll stick to it."

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Capitola, East Washington street.

School Hit By Coal Shortage Develops New Radio Teaching Plan

By LYLE MARINER

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

DENVER, Dec. 13.—The mandatory closing of Denver schools for two weeks during the coal miners strike was costly to the immediate education needs of school children, but discovery of new methods of teaching through emergency radio lessons may pay unexpected dividends, officials said today.

Snow, Coal Strike Interfere

Shortage of coal stocks in Denver as a result of November snowstorms abruptly halted formal education in the classrooms Nov. 23, shortly after the coal strike got under way.

Administrators and teachers were plunged into the problem of continuing some form of classwork or carry over the school term late into summer.

Radio was a logical medium to reach pupils in their homes. The week-end was spent by administrators planning methods of reaching all ages of school children from the lowest elementary grades through high schools.

It became obvious that a radio program could not be arranged for each of 12 grades. Therefore, an "enriching" program was decided upon for all phases of school work, including arithmetic, English, history and science, that would supplement regular studies.

Interesting Phases
The programs were divided into three classifications—one each for elementary, upper elementary and high school every day. These classes stressed absorbing side-lessons of various studies.

A mathematics program was called "figuratively speaking." It pointed out through dramatic presentation how arithmetic came into being, tracing its history from the cubit measurement of Bible times.

History took the form of "empty pedestals" for a series of programs, following the current discussion in Colorado of suitable state candidates to occupy positions in the Hall of Fame in Washington.

Famous stories were dramatized for English. Other programs stressed development of personality. Another sought to present the "feeling of poetry," and still another was on music appreciation.

All five of Denver's radio stations carried the lessons which supplemented regular study in class books from which lessons were assigned each day by radio and through the newspapers.

Pupils Were Graded

Students returned the written assignments to their respective schools each Monday for grading.

Officials said no tests could be given on the two weeks of home study after the student returned to school this week, since the radio lessons were of the type that would not lend themselves to formal examinations. Written lessons were already in the nature of tests.

Research conducted during the radio experiment indicated that from seven to 25 per cent of the students were actually listening to every lesson. According to the research bureau, this listening audience was exceptionally high in program rating.

Commuter Use Of Helicopter 10 Years Away

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Igor Sikorsky, designer of the helicopter, says that conventional use of the elevator-type plane by the suburban commuter still is at least a decade away.

In an address in Pittsburgh he said use of the "windmill" plane will be largely limited to professional people during the next ten years, such as mail carriers and air taxi operators.

"One has to know a lot about flying before he can operate a helicopter," Sikorsky said. "It is not operated like an automobile."

He added that after ten years it would begin to invade the field of private flying.

Council Receives Communication From Harry L. McBride Post V.F.W.

OTHER NEWS OF CITY HALL AFFAIRS

Members of Corporal Harry L. McBride Post No. 522, V. F. W., on Thursday requested Mayor John F. Haven and council colleagues, who met in council chambers, city hall, to "let the boys who served the nation serve our citizen."

The letter, signed by Fred M. Horchler, post commander, and Adjutant James H. Campbell, said members of the post, by resolution, unanimously requested the officials to give first consideration to ex-servicemen when making appointments to city positions.

The letter was read after which it was placed on file.

May Sell City Building

Indications point to officials of the city building proposition really men here to dispose of the city building because council received no bids when they met December 2, the time fixed for the receipt of bids. Council proposes to erect next year a new municipal structure at Grant and Jefferson streets.

Appropriation Ordinance

Council instructed City Solicitor Robert M. White to draft a bill by which the city will pay the expenses of continuing Route 422 through the city. The county will give the city $15,000 toward the cost. The city will pay all the damages. The city agreed to this five months ago.

May Buy Acreage

During council meeting Thursday colleagues adopted a motion by Safety Director D. O. Davies recommending that the City Recreation board purchase eight or nine acres of ground, for delinquent taxes, for recreative purposes. The school board recommended such a move recently. The plot belonged to the Sample heirs and is said to be the only one available for baseball purposes in the seventh ward. It is located in the rear of Lafayette street.

W. A. C. Representative

J. R. Paulson, representative of the War Assets Corporation, today at the Lawrence County Veterans Advisory Council's office, second floor, city hall, gave interviews to World War II veterans concerning the surplus property they desire to purchase. He gave them information as to what goods are available and assisted in the making out by prospective purchasers of application blanks.

Students Coming

Journalism students of Westminster college will visit city hall Saturday morning to gain an insight as to how the various departments of the city operate, according to Mayor John F. Haven.

Request Traffic Light

A petition, signed voluminously, was read by City Clerk J. H. Fritz to council. The petition requested that council act upon the recommendation of a recent grand jury and erect a traffic light at County Line and Pearson streets. The petition was referred to committee.

Envelopes Scarce

It was reported by B. N. Hayton, city treasurer via Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland that the printing firm which has been providing the city with envelopes is unable to furnish 32,000 for city tax notices in 1947, hence council instructed Purchasing Agent J. D. Alexander and City Clerk J. H. Fritz to make arrangements to procure them from some other firm, if possible.

the PMP official explained that "this means an added hazard when it comes to driving over the highways, especially in inclement weather, and also an added hazard to pedestrians using the streets and highways".

The low ebb of highway construction and road maintenance during the past five years was also cited by Mr. Maxwell as an added hazard to the seasonal dangers.

Existing inadequately maintained streets and highways on these days of longer darkness are highly dangerous for pedestrians and drivers alike", he warned.

"Driving or walking—Take It Easy"—and you won't have to worry about anyone else, nor will the family have to worry about you. Mr. Maxwell said. "It was a time when we should 'Take It Easy' right now and during the coming weeks of fewer daylight hours and hazardous road conditions is the time".

Key Witness In Bilbo Case Charges Threat

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Senate investigators called a battery of Mississippi contractors to testify in the Bilbo inquiry today and redoubled efforts to locate a key witness who claims he and his family have been threatened with death.

The "missing witness" was Edward P. Terry, former secretary to Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo (D. Miss.), who is accused of accepting more than $30,000 from war contractors whose cause he pleaded at the War department.

Counsel for the Senate War Investigating committee were confident Terry would be found and subpoenaed. FBI aid was enlisted in the hunt and his charges of threats on his life were turned over to Attorney General Tom Clark for investigation.

Terry wrote the committee that on three occasions he was warned against speaking out against Bilbo. He asked to be excused from testifying because of the alleged threats against "the lives of my wife and daughter."

Nine nations have laid claims to parts of the vast frozen mass of the South Pole. They are the United States, Russia, Great Britain, Japan, Norway, Australia, France, Belgium and Germany.

Grant Permits For Several New Homes

City bureau of building in City Hall has granted several permits for construction of new homes which when finished will cost, according to estimates, $37,900.

The permits granted were as follows: A. C. Ditterle, frame dwelling, 118 Englewood avenue, $10,000; frame dwellings, 914-916 Hazel street, $12,000; frame dwellings, 1216-1220 South Cascade street, $8,000.

O. G. Freyermont, frame dwelling, 507 Clemmore boulevard, and garage, $7,900.

Extra Buses For Holiday Shoppers

LeRoy Shoaf, superintendent,

Shenango Valley Transportation company, said today that holiday crowds are being transported without delay. He said that "trippers" or extra buses, are put on during the morning and afternoon rush hours. He also said that because of good weather, operations, despite larger crowds, has been normal.

JACK ROSE, F-2C WILL ARRIVE FOR HOLIDAYS

Jack Rose, F-2c, aboard the minesweeper U. S. S. Towhee will arrive from Charleston, S. C., at Vienna airport Sunday morning for the Christmas holidays. He has just returned from a cruise to Bermuda.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rose, 302 Boyles avenue.

SPECIAL BODIES PREPARE FOR 1947 ASSEMBLY MEETING

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Five special committees named by House speaker-nominee Franklin H. Lichtenwalter were preparing today for the 1947 General assembly convening January 7.

Lichtenwalter appointed veteran assemblyman, Thomas B. Stockham (R.) Bucks, chairman of the committee on committees while Rep. Adam T. Bower (R.) Northumberland, was named chairman of the State committee.

Other chairmanship appointments were: Rep. W. Stuart Helm (R.) Armstrong, committee on revision of rules; Charles R. Reagan (R.) Union, seating committee; and Rep. William P. McMillen (R.) Indiana, committee on committee rooms.

Stockham's group will designate committee assignments while the State committee will fill various appointive posts in the House of Representatives.

Colonial History Of Pennsylvania In Pitt Library

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—(INS)—

The Darlington Memorial Library on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh is the treasury of Pennsylvania's history.

The haunting intrigue of the early colonial days in the Keystone state can all be found among this heavily-insured library of rare books over which Mrs. Lois Mulkern presides.

There are hundreds of first editions.

The first edition of the first all-American play ever written repose there. The first book printed west of the Alleghenies, and the only Shewness Primer ever printed are among the collection.

The library is locked all the time. For the most part graduate students, use the editions, and occasionally outsiders sometimes do intricate research.

Would be quick to agree with Mrs. Mulkern after a short chat, that the books under lock and key there belong under lock and key, untouched by superficialities of the outside world, uncontaminated by the present.

HARLANSBURG

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Services will be conducted next Sunday in the church.

The Ellen Bell Missionary Society of the church met at the home of Mrs. Everett McConnell, Thursday, with the work consisting of making toys for the mission box. A tureen dinner was served at noon.

Mrs. Henrietta Johnson had charge of the program using as her theme, "We have seen His Star."

Christmas carols were sung.

Plans were made for a Christmas party for the entire church in the church building on Friday evening, December 20. Mrs. Henrietta Johnson will be hostess on January 2.

FRIENDLY MISSION CIRCLE

The Friendly Mission Circle met on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Hunt, with Mrs. Sally Hunt as co-hostess.

During the program, Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming had an arrangement of an open Bible with a small Christmas tree in the center of the table, with white lighted candles at either side. Miss Helen Macom and Mrs. Mabel Kneram, sang a beautiful duet.

Following the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Helen Hunt, a gift exchange took place. On January 2, Mrs. Lavella M. Farland will entertain, with Mrs. Lucille Hunt as co-hostess.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Services will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday, with a special feature in the evening, Miss Brenda Johnson, missionary from Kenya Colony, East Africa will be the evening speaker, also showing slides.

Rev. and Mrs. Leithler are having an open house, Thursday evening, December 12.

Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock, regular meeting of the B. Y. P. U. will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Harlan. A contest for new members will begin.

HARLANSBURG NOTES

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Tom West, Jr., had as dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. McChacken and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burns of New Castle.

F. Dwight Miles, of Rockwood, N. Y., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Locke.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Covert, of Pittsburgh, were Sunday callers of Mrs. Ethel Hardless and family.

The D. L. Club met on December 11 at the home of Mrs. McCracken.

This club has undertaken a new project in sewing.

The Harlansburg schools are putting on a Christmas operetta at the Liberty Grange on December 18.

There will be a gift exchange at the Christmas party on December 20.

at the Presbyterian church. A program of games and lantern pictures is being arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lüthi, of North Liberty, visited on Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Locke.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McConnell have named their new daughter Linda Lee.

Frank Morehead, U. S. Dean and Ed. Dean each brought home a deer at the first of the hunting season.

Tom West, Jr., also brought home a deer.

W. C. T. U. will hold a fish fry at the Liberty Grange on Friday evening, December 13.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Shalenburger and children, of Rich Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. George Shaffer and children, of Princeton, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kneram.

Feed Big Cost
Items In State
Farmers' Budget

HARRISBURG—Greatest single item in the cost of operating farms in Pennsylvania is the purchase of livestock and poultry feeds, the State Department of Agriculture declared today. Observers estimated that half of the grain feed used on farms during recent years had been brought into the state from surplus-producing areas.

Pennsylvania farm operators in 1945 spent $123,451,000 for feed which was utilized in the production of an all-time record amount of milk and the second highest known egg output in the history of the state, federal-state surveys disclosed.

December Term Of Court Closes

Unusually Short Sessions Of Criminal Court Are Rule
In Recent Years

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

December term of criminal court closed Thursday afternoon and another short one was in. Short terms are the usual thing in criminal courts here in the past five years and by comparison the days of the middle twenties seem to sound like a crime wave.

Back in those days criminal court lasted anywhere from two to four weeks for the listings were heavier and apparently more defendants stood trial. The number of cases listed now is much smaller than then but the number of pleas has increased.

OPEN EVENINGSIndustry Decentralization
Is Discussed By BabsonBy ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1946, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

NEW YORK CITY, Dec. 13.—We find ourselves today at a point where the more we expand an industry the greater will become our difficulties. A small industry, if expanded, will probably run into labor supply difficulties. A larger industry, already beset by a shortage of skilled workers, bottlenecks and lack of materials, finds these odds nearly insurmountable when endeavoring to expand.

BABSON
The trend is turning toward a very workable and perhaps the only solution—decentralization!

When we think of decentralization of industry we visualize small cities which have as prerequisites a good source of industrial power, low living costs and healthier living conditions for the worker. The majority of the residents probably would be homeowners. Good shipping facilities, suitable factory buildings or sites, low taxes, a population of sufficient size and ability to supply labor demands along with reasonable access to raw materials combine to make thousands of small communities ideal factory locations. Lower Costs For Business

The large or small industry which locates some of its plants in small places is almost sure to be rewarded by lower costs. Such businesses as the clothing industries traditionally employ women for expert needlework. There are countless small towns whose women are willing to work. But they are often unwilling to move from their home towns or even to commute. Firms which have gone into these towns have found in many cases not only a new labor supply but new plant facilities for rent—something more than scarce in big cities today.

Lower costs of upkeep and repairs have been an added inducement. Easy access to raw materials can be inviting factors. Some of the biggest packers in the country have located poultry dressing plants in the broiler areas, thus causing savings in time and transportation costs. Another example of the wise use of small towns is seen in the building of canning factories, freezing plants and now dehydrators.

Accessibility to sources of cheap power and food make rural sections especially inviting to industry. Small cities in Kansas, Missouri, Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Montana and West Virginia are near large sources of natural gas.

This can be used for cheap fuel and as the raw material for chemicals and other synthetic products. Towns near such sources of hydroelectric power, as that of the Tennessee Valley project, the Boulder dam in Colorado and the Bonneville and Grand Coulee dams in Oregon, offer for industry a low-cost and nearly unlimited power supply. A possibility for the future, now in the experimental stage, of comparatively strike-free power in rural districts is the production of gas by burning unmined coal. Numerous small towns lie strategically near great latent coal supplies.

Living Conditions

A healthy environment can have a tremendous effect on the morale of workers. Although wages today are being pretty much standardized everywhere, some employees are willing to work for less where they can work in the same small town in which they live. Thus, they cut commuting costs, cost of lunches and are able to shop where prices are cheaper. They surely do more and better work for the same wages.

Added to the financial advantages of the rural work are the advantages of extra leisure. He may walk to and from his job, work in a healthy environment for and with men who are his neighbors and church friends. He knows that with honest effort he may be outstanding in his small community, rather than lost in an enormous one.

The lack of a feeling of personal importance often causes slip-shod, don't-care attitudes among big city workers.

This increase in morale may be one of the reasons for greater productivity in the small community for the same money paid in the city.

Think Of Management

Small cities also offer attractions for management and their families. Their women and children like the friendly conditions. The unit manager has an opportunity to develop independence of thought and action, solving industrial problems with a minimum of red tape and cost. Decentralization of industry is the trend of the times while at the same time large cities will continue to grow and prosper.

The Hwating's aid were the coast guard cutter Persicus from San Diego, the American ship Chisholm Trail, and the Canadian ship Lake Chawington.

The Hwating, carrying a crew of 34, left Los Angeles harbor Monday enroute to Shanghai with 600 tons of phosphate.

See Sharp Rise In Anthracite 'Bootleg' Coal

Institute Reveals That Practice Will Jump By 375,000 Tons Next Year

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Dec. 13.—(INS)—The anthracite institute revealed today that "bootleg" mining of hard coal will increase nearly 375,000 tons in Pennsylvania this year.

In its weekly bulletin, the institute reported that 1946 production of "bootleg" anthracite will approximate 1,400,000 tons as compared with 1,026,000 tons in 1945.

"The fact that bootleg mining is on the increase should concern every citizen of the anthracite region," the bulletin said.

It was pointed out, however, that the 1946 rate is "well below the peak 'bootleg' production years of 1940 and 1941, when six to seven million tons were produced."

The institute bulletin declared that "bootlegging is not exclusively a problem of legitimate anthracite producers".

"It is a sword of Damocles hanging over the welfare of the whole anthracite region with the Wyoming and Lehigh areas being just as vulnerable to the effects of 'bootlegging' as the Schuylkill-Northumberland area where the 'bootleg' operations exist," the bulletin added.

Practice Condemned

The bulletin condemned coal "bootlegging" as a threat to the future of the anthracite industry.

"Bootlegging" impairs the future of anthracite as a fuel," the institute bulletin said, "because, in general, it is a product poorly prepared, both as to impurities and as to size."

Excessive "bootlegging" will cause the consuming public to turn to other fuels, the bulletin warned.

The institute's anthracite committee called for "complete" elimination of "this disease threatening the future of the whole anthracite region."

The committee suggested that enforcement of existing laws can adequately throttle the "bootleg" coal production.

If federal, state and local laws already on the statute books were rigidly enforced," the bulletin said, "bootlegging" would lose the unfair advantages which alone make its existence possible."

LEAPS TO DEATH

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—(INS)—County police reported today that Elmer B. Richards, 32, of Wilkensburg, killed himself in a leap from the Westinghouse bridge yesterday, leaping 300 feet.

Three high school girls told police they saw Richards jump over the bridge railing. No motive was advanced for the suicide, police said.

Farmhand Tells Police Versions Of Killing Girl

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 13.—(INS)—An immature farmhand who applied for a night's lodging at Philadelphia's city hall today was held without bail in connection with an 18-year-old slaying.

The suspect was identified by police as George J. Webb, of Pringleport, Conn. After he was given a place to sleep, according to authorities, he told police he wanted to "set something off my conscience."

Officers testified before Magistrate John J. O'Malley that Webb told them three varying stories of the slaying of Margaret Brown, a New York governess, in Somerset County, N. J. in 1928.

Miss Brown died in a Morristown hospital the day after her body was found badly burned behind a roadside.

Police said Webb named himself as a participant in two versions, but said he was only a witness in another alleged recounting of the slaying.

Demand Federal Farm Subsidies Be Eliminated

HARRISBURG Dec. 13.—(INS)—

The elimination of federal farm subsidies was demanded today by the Pennsylvania state council of farm organizations.

A resolution adopted during its annual meeting in Harrisburg called for the creation of a "free and self-sustaining agriculture" regulating prices through the "law of supply and demand".

The council denounced government-controlled economy as undemocratic and demanded a balanced budget to maintain federal solvency.

COUNTY RECEIVES FUEL TAX REBATE

Approval of rebates on fuel tax revenues meant today that Lawrence county will receive $44,586 of the fund distributed to counties of the state.

WRONG PLACE

WELCH, W. Va., Dec. 13.—(INS)—It was a big step in the life of train brakeman G. L. Caldwell, 28, of Bluefield, W. Va.

A Norfolk and Western railway locomotive stopped near Welch in the pre-dawn hours and Caldwell decided to stretch his legs.

A split-second later he found himself splashing in the Tug river.

The first step was 35 feet high—the locomotive had stopped on a bridge.

Dashell Hammett, detective fiction writer, was a Pinkerton detective for eight years.

On Display

It's on display currently at the "Britain Can Make It" exhibition at London's Victoria and Albert Museum, and it's causing plenty of discussion on the part of those who view it.

Some though the bed looks like an iron lung, while at least one spectator thought it resembled a coffin.

But the designer, is firmly of the opinion that his bed is not only entirely practical but is much more healthful than the type of beds now in use everywhere.

The exhibition's catalogue describes the bed as:

Life in Bed

"The average man spends one-third of his life in bed—that is about a quarter of a century. The design will ensure that those twenty-odd years will be spent in comfort and health. His invention consists of a shell or envelope that encloses an ordinary divan bed. The lower part of the shell covers the sleeper's body, sealing him lightly over the shoulders with a flexible draught-proof fringe."

It's that "shell or envelope", incidentally, that makes the bed look like a coffin. Continuing, the catalogue says:

"An air-warming unit in the foot of the shell provides a slow steady replacement of air at a uniform

Indict Five In Beer War

Efforts To Remove World War II Dead Being Hampered

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Five members of the AFL Teamsters Union were under a grand jury indictment today on charges of alleged violence in Pittsburgh's 65-day-old beer war.

The five men were charged with inciting to a riot and aggravated assault and battery following the arrest November 12 for allegedly beating Joseph Frederick, of Elma.

The indictments brought to even the total numbers of teamsters facing court charges for alleged violence in the jurisdictional feud between the Teamsters Union and the CIO Brewery Workers for control of Pittsburgh brewery employees.

Those indicted included: George Barth of Grafton; Philip Bohr of Sharpsville; Richard A. Loerlein of Fair Oaks; Clifford Smith and Richard Campbell, both of Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile, State Secretary of Labor and Industry William H. Chessen will meet today with representatives of both unions to discuss possible settlement of the dispute.

Wartime Goods Disposal Probe Being Concluded

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—A congressional committee planned to conclude today a five-month investigation into the government's disposal of billions of dollars worth of wartime goods.

The House Supply Property committee, headed by Rep. Slaughter (D., Mo.), called as the final witness War Assets Administrator Robert M. Littlejohn. It was his fifth appearance before the committee.

Littlejohn was called in for an accounting of his stewardship, which began last July 22. The committee wished to find out what steps Littlejohn has taken to eliminate inefficiency and mismanagement in the sales of war-excess goods.

The committee will present its conclusions to the house in a report which must be filed by December 31, when the five-member group will expire. It will probably recommend continuation of the investigation by the new congress. Rep. Rizley (R., Okla., ranking minority member on the committee), was expected to sponsor a resolution reconvening the group.

Held By Kidnappers

VENICE, Dec. 13.—(INS)—The Venetian Press reported today that the Italian wife of a former American captain, John Williams, was kidnapped and held for ransom for a half million lire after the couple were held up near Codevigo.

Unidentified abductors at the point of a tommy gun forced Williams to halt his jeep in which he and his wife were riding.

They took the couple's personal effects, including $128, a pistol and a wedding ring before driving off with Mrs. Williams, whose return was promised on payment of the ransom money.

UNION CHORAL GROUPS WILL GIVE PROGRAM

Both the grade school chorus and the mixed chorus of Union High school are rehearsing for "The Nativity Story," a musical program with dramatic background.

Included in the portrayal of the Christmas story are traditional carols from the early eighth century, as well as modern Negro songs and other American carols.

This program, which will be presented in the Union High school auditorium on next Thursday evening at 8:15, is open to the public.

Miss Erma Paech and Miss Betty Robinson are in charge.

Hershey Meeting For GOP Senators To Pick Leaders

Will Caucus December 16 To Select Leaders For 1947 General Assembly

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 34 Republican state senators were preparing today to caucus at Hershey December 16 to select leaders for the 1947 general assembly.

Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, of Harrisburg, Republican state chairman, was expected to be re-named senator president pro tempore while Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn, of Connerville, was slated to be retained as majority leader for a second term.

Sen. O. J. Tallman, of Allentown, probably will be renamed GOP senator caucuses chairman. G. Harold Watkins of Frackville, a former senator, was expected to be retained as senate secretary, a $7500-a-year post.

It was anticipated that William J. Ridge of Covington would be selected for another term as chief clerk of the senate. The post pays $6000 a year.

The GOP senators will outline a legislative program designed to assure a speedy session of the general assembly next year, leaders said. The Republican members of the upper chamber have pledged support of the legislative program of governor-elect James H. Duff.

The Republican senators constitute a constitutional majority, thus assuring quick confirmation for Duff's appointees.

SEES ALL-TIME INSURANCE RECORD FOR 1946 PERIOD

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(INS)—An all-time record of life insurance policies for 1946 was predicted today by Dave E. Satterfield, Jr., executive director and general counsel of the Life Insurance Association of America.

Satterfield, in an address prepared for delivery before the association's 40th annual meeting, announced that total life insurance in force at the end of the year will probably reach a new high of $174 billion, owned by around 73 million stockholders.

He said that the 1946 purchases will be above 47 per cent above last year's and more than 30 per cent above the previous peak volume of $17,995,000,000, reached in 1929.

Bank Bandits Quickly Taken

Stage $50,000 Daylight Hold-up And Walk Into Eight Policemen

DETROIT, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Two armed bandits staged a daring $50,000 daylight bank robbery in Detroit Thursday and then walked straight into the arms of eight police.

The pair, identified as 28-year-old Andrew Firth and his cousin Richard Firth, 27, herded five employees and four customers of the Detroit bank's branch into the vault.

The bank's manager, Robert Burns of Plymouth, told police the bandits then forced him to open a safe in the cashier's cage.

The 50-year-old manager said it was while Andrew Firth was scooping up the money that he managed to step on the alarm button.

Police Lt. Charles Schwartz said eight policemen assembled at the bank's door a minute and a half after the bank's alarm was sounded.

The police blockade stopped the fleeing bandits and they surrendered without a struggle.

Sidewalk witnesses said a third bandit remained in a parked red Mercury and escaped when police arrived.

FIRST COMMERCIAL AIRLINE RADAR TEST

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 13.—(INS)—The first use of radar in commercial aviation was tested in Erie recently when a giant DC-4 air cargo plane took off for San Francisco with a 10-ton cargo of zippers.

Radar, developed during the war, enables a pilot to "see" mountains and other obstructions in the dark and also down atmospheric hazards.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 13.—(INS)—This Friday the 13th may be an unlucky day for a lot of people, but not for gorgeous Dolores Moran.

She's not worried about black cats crossing her path; she's walking on them.

They tried to make me into another Jean Harlow," Dolores explained, "those kind of roles passed out with Harlow."

"I want to do sympathetic roles in the future, but most of all I want to do a musical. I'm studying hard on my dancing."

She's taking lessons, incidentally, from Nico Charisse, one of the world's best and the former husband of Cyd Charisse, M-G-M's sensational ballerina. And she and Ben will go to New York City to see the new plays, particularly the musicals, as soon as "Christmas Eve" is completed.

Your reporter told Dolores, and truthfully too, that she looks more beautiful as a blonde than she ever had.

"Well," said Dolores, looking pleased, "I don't know whether that's the hair or because I'm becoming more mature."

"I'm 20 now. I was only 15 when I started in the movies." Such antiquity!

Blum Confers On Cabinet Places

PARIS, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Premier Leo Blum conferred today with party leaders in the national assembly on naming a cabinet which will tackle the gravest problems to face a French government since the dark days of the nation's fall. Blum arrived at the presidency at 10 a. m. and his first visitors were the head of three minor groups, Claudio Petit, of the Leftist UDSR, Ramaray, president of the Rightist Republican Liberty party and Antier, president of the Peasant bloc. Ramaray hinted that the P.R.L. is willing to support a Blum government, pointing out that the cabinet will need the largest possible majority in order to carry out its difficult tasks.

Blum, whose health is not good, indicated he will hold conferences in the presidency in the day hours but will return to his private residence every night.

SENATE PROBERS ASK RECORDS OF 'MISSING' MAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—The Senate War Investigating committee today called for the banking records of Edward P. Terry, "missing" former secretary to Sen. Bilbo (D) Miss., who claims he and his family have been threatened with death.

Sen. Mead (D) N. Y., chairman of the committee investigating Bilbo's war contract connections, directed that the records be brought in Monday by J. Marvin Quinn, vice-president of the Jackson, Miss., State National bank.

Walter Johnson Is Laid To Rest

Former Teammates Of Once Great Washington Pitcher Serve As Pallbearers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—The great and the humble of the nation's capital united in a bond of affection for a superb sportsman, said goodbye to the "Big Train" today.

Funeral services for Walter Johnson, whose blazing fast ball made him one of baseball's true immortals, were held this afternoon in the Washington Cathedral.

Former teammates of the mighty hurler who dominated the mound for the Washington Senators from 1907 to 1927 served as pallbearers. They were: Roger Peckinpaugh, Sam Rice, Ossie Bluege, Joe Judge, Nick Altrock, Bucky Harris, Eddie Ainsmith, Jim Shaw and the man who caught many of Johnson's greatest games—Harold ("Muddy") Ruell.

The officiating clergyman was the Very Rev. John W. Suter, dean of the Cathedral. Burial was to be made in Rockville, Md., Union cemetery, where Johnson will rest beside his wife, Hazel, who died in 1930.

The 59-year-old giant of the diamond died Tuesday night after a long illness.

Jesse Neville Dies At Port Clinton, O.

Local World War II Veteran Dies As Result Of Injuries Sustained In Accident

Jesse Neville, aged 25 years, of 525 West North street, died Thursday in a hospital at Port Clinton, O., according to a message received here. Death was the result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident of which no details have been received here.

Mr. Neville, a veteran of World War II, made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sano, of West North street. He served his country for four years, having been wounded in France.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Myrtle Neville, New Castle, and four sisters, Miss Gladys Neville, Detroit, Mich., Miss Carmel Neville, Clarksville, W. Va., Miss Betty Neville, Weston, W. Va., and Miss Louise Neville, Pullman, W. Va.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon in Port Clinton, where interment will take place.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Myrtle Neville, New Castle, and four sisters, Miss Gladys Neville, Detroit, Mich., Miss Carmel Neville, Clarksville, W. Va., Miss Betty Neville, Weston, W. Va., and Miss Louise Neville, Pullman, W. Va.

The governor pointed out that 1340 persons had died during 10 months of 1946, an increase of 307

Similar action by the Pennsylvania group probably could obtain increased state subsidies, he said.

SALVATION ARMY STARTS CHRISTMAS WORKS NEXT WEEK

To add to the Christmas happiness of hundreds of small children, the Salvation Army's toyshop is opening on Wednesday, and checks for Christmas groceries are going out to many local families who are not in a position to afford a holiday dinner.

On next Friday evening, the New Castle corps is giving a party for the youngsters who have attended the various clubs and the Sunday school at the headquarters on North Jefferson street, and the Christmas meeting will be on Sunday evening, December 22.

General Assembly Of United Nations In Homestretch

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(INS)—The United Nations General Assembly swing into the homestretch today.

Facing necessity of cleaning up its agenda if the 54 delegations were to spend Christmas at home, the assembly scheduled morning, afternoon and night sessions.

Yesterday, in about 12 hours of debate, the assembly adopted, 34 to 6, a recommendation that all member nations withdraw their ambassadors and ministers from Madrid as a protest against continuance of Generalissimo Franco's Fascist regime. There were 13 abstentions, but both the United States and Great Britain voted for it.

ENCL. ATTACHED

CHESTER, Pa., Dec. 13.—(INS)—Wesley Robinson, 35, of Trainer, was struck with a baseball bat and police shot in the abdomen today, police said, when he escorted a married woman home.

Edwin Klock, 33, was arrested on charges of assault and battery and his wife Marion, 27, was arrested on charges of neglecting their four children.

According to police, Klock met Robinson and his wife as they entered his home. A scuffle ensued and neighbors called police. Robinson was reported in serious condition in Chester hospital.

IN THE OPEN

Every man who walks the way-side trails has a favorite spot or two he picked out where "some day" he will build that snug hideaway cabin. It may be in the heart of the deer country or within earshot of a talking trout brook. Or it may be a wooded knoll just a few miles from the office. Occasionally these dreams come true but in a sad majority of cases the cabin never gets past the wishful thinking stage.

There is one such spot not too far from my own doorway which has teased my imagination for many years. A long sloping hillside, like open to the sun all day, funnels into a small wooded ravine near the bittersweet fence-row. Great juicy blackberries populate the hillside sharing the worn-out sodden with wild rose, sassafras and wild cherry. Here and there stand specimen dogwoods which fairly burst their buttons during the spring flower show.

Surrounds a Spring

Halfway up the hillside a neat copse of aspen trees surrounds a spring which sets off a small meandering stream. This rivulet promptly disappears, to surface again several rods farther down the hillside. Somewhere near this spring I would locate the cabin. The ravine houses a few great oaks and an interesting variety of smaller timber. Here I would lay out a rustic outdoor dining room, with the canopy overhead for shade and the bracken and Christmas fern for floral decoration.

Black walnut trees are to be found on this hillside and I note a few shellbark hickories which will soon be at bearing age. I have no idea who owns this back country acreage, but he'd be charging me rent if he knew how many cabins I have dreamed up on his holdings.

Weather Contrary

Although the calendar talked December language the weatherman refused to translate properly and the thermometer was well up in the upper half of the column as I debarked from the old car for another survey of "my" hillside. I changed to country clothes by the roadside, and then moseyed up along the bittersweet fence-row which edges one side of this retreat. Despite greedy gathering, the vines are spreading along this path. Great clusters of the gaudy fruits were hanging high up in the scrub cherries and the young hickory saplings.

Fat buds on the dogwood brought to mind Shelley's line—"If winter comes, can spring be far behind?" The trees have set great numbers of the terminal, spherical flower buds. Snugly wrapped in their cold weather blankets, next year's gorgeous flowers are already prepared for the day when spring sunshine and the rising sap will pull and haul them into full bloom.

The hawthorn bushes are showing tiny blood-red buds, while the hickories have wrapped up next year's package in a tremendous terminal bud which is as soft and downy as a wool blanket to the touch.

At the top of the rise I cut back across the ridge, following another abandoned fencerow. Great patches of moss made for easy walking and further testified to the worn-out condition of the land. An occasional pasture rose held up its scarlet fruits for inspection. I gathered a few cocoons of the promethea moth from the wild cherry saplings and found one large cocoon, probably that of the polyphemus moth, on a small sassafras.

I had long been curious as to what lay behind this hillside and walked up and over. A broad valley stretched below, uninhabited so far as I could see, and thickly dotted with quite interesting pieces of woodland. Here is a new field for exploration, which may reveal the hiding place of shyer birds and flowers I have not yet encountered.

Bird Life Lacking

There was a noticeable lack of bird life. The winter birds seem to seek the company of man and are usually found in rather close proximity to human habitations. I sat in a small wooded stretch for a few moments, enjoying the warm sunshine. Four flickers flew into the trees edging this piece of timber. These are versatile birds, perching among the branches with an ease which seems unusual for a bark-clinging woodpecker. They were eating the white berries of the poison ivy, which hung high and well out from the trees on stocky stems.

Following another fencerow, I came out again on the summit of "my" hillside. Below were the aspen clumps surrounding the spring and the great oaks in the ravine in the far corner of the field. Once again I dreamed up the cabin retreat

CLAIM BULGARS HELP GREEK GUERRILLAS

LONDON, Dec. 13.—(INS)—A Reuters dispatch from Alexandroupolis in Thrace quoted the commander of the Greek third army as declaring today he believes guerrilla forces are free to come and go as they wish across the Bulgarian frontier.

The commander, Gen. Asymakopoulos, said he thought the guerrillas had rest camps inside Bulgaria and received training in that country. He added:

"Leaving politics aside and speaking only as a professional soldier, I am sure the Bulgarians are helping the rebels."

Walter W. Mathews, managing director of the Philadelphia safety council, declared that any traffic legislation should contain laws governing pedestrians.

"It's evident that something more than mere education is needed," he said.

Earl Allgaier, research engineer of the American automobile association approved of a pedestrian law but emphasized that it would have to be backed up by an educational program.

"A law by itself would not do the job," he added.

Still another idea which has been discussed by the safety specialists is the delegation of more power to traffic police and the scrapping of the state's summons system. Supporters of this plan favor permitting police to arrest traffic violators on sight.

OVER FORTY TONS OF READING MATTER FROM PATENT SUIT

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 13.—(INS)—If it's ponderous reading you're interested in, Federal Judge Wallace S. Gourley might be able to help you.

More than 40 tons of records and correspondence has been stacked in his court room for presentation during the six million dollar patent suit of Universal Lubricating systems of Pittsburgh against Stewart-Warner Corp. of Chicago. Every available bit of seating space in the court room is stacked with the evidence.

The suit already has taken more than three months, and probably will last another two months before it is completed.

Community Chest Board Is Given Report For Year

Member Agencies Hear Annual Auditor's Report At Meeting Thursday

All but two of the member agencies were represented at the meeting of the Community Chest Thursday evening, when the annual auditor's report for the year ending October 31, 1945, was accepted and filed. This audit, made by Phillip Weiner and company, C. P. A., is a complete check on the Chest finances for the year.

With Paul G. Dingleday presiding, approval was voted for the payment of all current bills, including the regular monthly payments to the Chest agencies as follows:

Lawrence County Council of Boy Scouts $ 625.00

Girl Scouts of New Castle, Inc. 416.00

H. B. Richard, chairman of the recently completed 1946 drive, made his report, totalling twenty-two pages of campaign statistics and pertinent data. This campaign had as its goal $88,800, and raised $91,043 before the books were closed.

The cost of the local campaign was $2,065.50. It was noted that in other western Pennsylvania areas, where the amount raised was about the same as in New Castle, the campaign cost was about twice as much.

Members of the board unanimously adopted a resolution of thanks and commendation to Mr. Richards for his leadership in the recent drive.

New Castle High Battles Westinghouse Quintet Here Tonight

'Whiz Kids' Hope To Annex Second Victory Of Year

Coach Bill Douglass Will Start Quintet That Began Avalon Game Tuesday

PRINCETON PLAYS JUNIOR VARSITY

Hoping to maintain the pace that carried them through to their winning 51 to 23 victory over Avalon High Tuesday evening, the New Castle High "Whiz Kids" basketball team will endeavor tonight at Washington gym to upset a highly regarded Westinghouse High team from Pittsburgh.

The preliminary game at 7 o'clock will pit the Princeton High varsity team of Section 21 against the New Castle junior varsity team. This should be a good contest. Princeton having defeated Zelienople High Tuesday evening 25 to 20.

Some Starting Five

"I intend to start the same team against Westinghouse that ran the legs off Avalon Tuesday," Coach Bill Douglass stated today.

New Castle will start the contest with Don Black and "Harp" Jancene at the forwards, Chuck Rea at center and "Whizzer" Wattens and Tony Cialella at the guards. This fast set of boys had Avalon gasping for breath at the end of the first period, as they led 12 to 1, and did not give the visitors a field goal.

The second five will have Brown and Spears at the forwards, Margutti at center and Grubbs and Guza at the guards. This team looked good also Tuesday when inserted into the game. Douglass will continue using the two different sets of boys, he intimated, giving New Castle ten players about on a par.

Westinghouse Good

Westinghouse comes here ready, as one of the "teams to beat" for the Pittsburgh city title this year.

'Butch' Wins In Far-Away Hawaii

BUTCH O'HARA

"Butch O'Hara," known locally as Russ Leisure of the West Side, drew in a five round match at the Civic Auditorium, Honolulu, on December 12. His opponent was Llewellyn Strohlin, former welter champ of the Hawaiian Islands. Both boys weighed in at 142. Russ fought Strohlin while stationed in Hawaii during the war. Strohlin captured the decision then, but received such a beating in doing so that he has been begging for a match with young Leisure ever since the New Castle boy returned to the Islands.

Pre-fight clippings from the Honolulu papers call "Butch" the best club fighter ever to show there. The papers say that he never stops fighting and is a fighting Irishman in the true sense of the word.

Winner of the O'Hara-Strohlin fight was to be matched with an Island boy, Robert Takeshita, who is in line for a title match. Although Leisure is matched for a bout on December 12, it was not known at the time the result of the Strohlin fight was sent to The News, whether or not his opponent would be Takeshita.

Legion League Set For Opener

Bessemmer Comes To New Castle, While New Wilmington Journeys To Wampum

FIVE POSTS HAVE STRONG QUINTETS

With five of the seven American Legion posts in the county represented in Section 8, District 26, with fast basketball teams, the league is all set for the lid lifter Saturday evening when Bessemmer comes to New Castle to meet the Perry S. Gaston Post boys at George Washington High floor, while Wampum entertains New Wilmington in the Wampum floor.

New Castle will present Eddie Stewart, Bill Strauberg, Tom Stausbaugh, John Zubkowski, Vince Kelly, Joe Cooper, San Janae, Bill Andrews, Bill Shuster, Bill Maffett, Tom Carey, John Cark, and Pele McCormick.

In the Bessemmer lineup will be Bill Peito, Paul Tafta, Eras Swanson, Richard Melchior, Bill Ash, Richard Scott, Robert Rose, Jack Connors, John Robinson, Joe Hartshorn, and Wilbur Kursel.

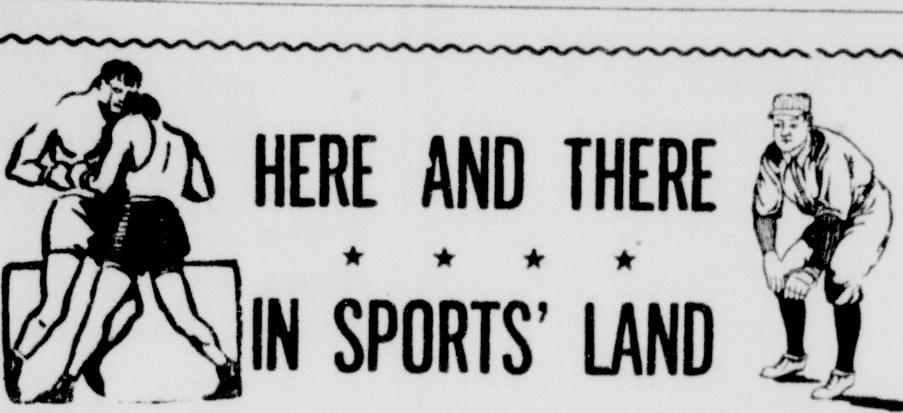

New Wilmington will have Ken Cathcart, Jim Dunleavy, Jim Pearson, Bob Cooper, Art Shaffer, Bob Phillips, Clyde Brest, Dick Green, Charles Evans, Bob Shaffer, Ken Whitman, and Jim Sferne.

Wampum will present Harold Marshall, John Marshall, Anthony Marish, George Johnson, Steve Hartman, Amey Fontana, Lester Kulkens, Dale Brown, Archie Frank, Edward Downey, Robert Sawyer and Tom Rousier.

Ellwood City will be idle this week end but will meet New Wilmington at New Wilmington, December 21, while Wampum plays at New Castle.

BY FRANK BECK

JACK BIDDLE, local middleweight, directed by Paris Cangey, erstwhile lightweight knock 'em out artist, hit the deck four times and lost an eight round bout with hard-soaking Eddie Elton, one of the sweetest colored middleweights hereabout, in Akron. According to Cangey, Jack was ill with a gripe for several days during his training period, and at one time, considered asking for a postponement. Despite the four knockdowns it was a fairly good fight, according to Cangey. . . . City council and the school board have decided to purchase for delinquent taxes eight or nine acres of ground in the rear of Lafayette street to be used for recreation purposes. According to reports, it will be available for baseball. . . . Frankie Moran, 12, of Akron, two consecutive knockouts within nine rounds, and live at Binghamton. This is a good record for a young pro. . . . First Christmas card of the season has arrived at Here & There. First, being from Harold Deape, former state policeman, who for a time was stationed here. While at West Virginia U. Deane was a member of the boxing team. He now resides at Pittsburg, having quit the "Staple."

Local lightweight has turned in four rounds. He requires one at Akron, two at McKeever, one at Trenton, and live at Binghamton. This is a good record for a young pro. . . . First Christmas card of the season has arrived at Here & There. First, being from Harold Deape, former state policeman, who for a time was stationed here. While at West Virginia U. Deane was a member of the boxing team. He now resides at Pittsburg, having quit the "Staple."

Clearfield County folk are arguing pro and con. Some say the animal shot and termed a timber wolf is a coyote, while those who claim they know coyotes assert it is a timber wolf. . . . Shenango Valley Beagle club members will select the men to direct the club's destinies next year at a meeting at the Y, Saturday evening, according to Secretary R. J. Morrow. . . . Eels made their traditional run early and the eel season was poor, according to the Bloomsburg, Pa., Press. Flooded streams caused them to make an early departure. . . . George Fix, Lee avenue, reports that years ago eel catching was a favorite sport in the Shenango river. . . . Nowadays one never hears of an eel being caught here.

Weather has been so mild it is easy to obtain worms for sucker fishing. . . . Some men spend as much time behind tumbler worms as they do in front of them. A mystery pollution originating in the sanitary sewer system of Kellems has blasted every form of water-life in a four-mile section of the south branch of the Kinzua, in McKean County, the Pennsylvania Angler reports.

Bill Porter was a good first baseman of yesteryear. . . . Bill Hodgkinson, local tailor, who won several games from Rube Waddell in Butler County, will select some highlights of yesteryear baseball in January. He informed Here & There. . . . Pick Glitch may not be growing younger, but the fact remains that physically he is one of the "youngest" baseball men around. There are few important ball games here Pick fails to see.

Here & There yet has a Lucky Horseshoe which Dan Sweeney blacksmith and ex-heavyweight, made for him several years ago. . . . This recalls that Bob Fitzsimmons whose last fight was with Dan, also was a blacksmith as is Patsy Hayden, ex-boxer and a lover of coon hunting. . . . From now until spring, Joe Rick's string of horses will, except for an occasional jog fest, rest and live the life of Riley at the Rick farm, formerly the New Castle fair grounds. Candidates for St. Mary's basketball varsity, reported last night at the Catholic Center. . . . Two pals, Pat Hennessy and his pipe. . . . Promoter Al Zill expects a big gate when Jimmy Mardell of Buffalo battles Mike Berschko Tuesday night, in Youngstown.

Nick Kearns After 31 Years Of Officiating Basketball Games, Hangs Up

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—(INS)—Basketball was minding the services of one of the best officials today with the retirement of Nick Kearns, veteran of 31 years of handling games.

Kearns, who is superintendent of Illinois Charities, is organizing an athletic program for veterans who became mental cases in the war.

He campaigned for more than 10 years for abolition of the center jump, the three-second possession of the ball on pivot plays, and the 10-second rule for possession in the back court.

Kearns has had the satisfaction of seeing all adopted. The veteran arbiter asserted:

"I've called them in about 2,000 games. I guess, now it's time for younger men to carry on."

Kearns asserted that he never knew of a case where a basketball official was dishonest. Kearns added:

"That's the finest tribute I can pay to the men of my profession."

Church League Games Tonight

Three fast games are billed to-night in the New Castle Church Basketball league at the "Y," with one undefeated team laying it on the line—the Second U. P. in the third game on the card with the Third U. P. team in what should be a ding-dong battle all the way.

The first game will start at 7:15 o'clock and will find the First U. P.
